

Kyriba Corporation Presents: Treasury Technology Webinar

May 23rd 2008
2:00 PM CT

Internet based treasury workstation technology has become more functional and less expensive. Many companies are choosing an ASP (Application Service Provider) solution to automate their cash management processes. If you are curious about what treasury automation and workstations can do, or, if your organization will be evaluating workstation providers in the next 18 months the upcoming webinar on May 23rd at 2 p.m. CT is relevant to you.

Kyriba Corporation offers the best solution for the overworked treasury practitioner with easy to use reporting, unlimited information storage, account analysis capabilities, award winning forecasting, and seamless integration to accounting.
